Deaths and Funerals

HANSEN—The funeral of Gustave Hansen was held yesterday afternoon at the Lindquist chapel. The funeral was conducted by Rev. W. W. Pleasant and a beautiful musical service consisting of three duets by Chas. Blair and Bert Syphers of the Eagles quartet was given. Many floral offerings were placed on the casket and the pulpit stand and the chapel was crowded with friends of the family.

The Eagles and Sons of Hermann lodges were present in a body and marched to the cemetery at the head of the cortege. The ritual service of the Sons of Hermann was performed at the chapel and at the grave each member of the lodge placed a bouquet of violets on the casket. The Eagles degree team formed an escort for the hearse and the Eagles' ritual service was performed at the grave. The pallbearers were Joseph Baumeister, John Eberhardt and Joseph Fagler of the Sons of Hermann, and George A. Thorne, Sr., George Wessler and G. C. Foley of the Eagles.

GUY CAHOON CASE WILL COME UP TOMORROW

Guy Cahoon and J. T. Cole were arraigned before Judge William H. Reeder in the municipal court this morning. Cole was brought up from Salt Lake City several days ago on suspicion of having held up John McKenna, a messenger boy, on the night of December 10, 1913, and, in an official investigation of the case, Cahoon was implicated. He was arrested Tuesday and the two men were charged with highway robbery.

When the case was called, Attorney A. G. Horn, for Cahoon, asked for a change of venue for his client. He said that he would file an affidavit of bias and prejudice some time during the day. Cole was not represented by counsel, but Judge Reeder carried the hearing of both men over until tomorrow, to give time for Cahoon to file his petition for a change of venue. Bail was set in each case at $500.

H. Vinson was found guilty of a charge of lewd and lascivious conduct and fined $100. His attorney, Parley P. Jensen of Salt Lake City, filed notice of appeal. Vinson was arrested by Officers Peterson and Chambers in a room at the Broom hotel on the night of December 11. He retained Attorney Jensen as counsel and the trial of the case has been delayed owing to Mr. Jensen's absence from the state.

OKLAHOMANS COULD BE DRAWN TO THIS DISTRICT

E. W. Cannady and wife have returned from Oklahoma, where they spent the past month visiting relatives and friends. Mr. Cannady says it is difficult for a person to fully appreciate Ogden until he has visited other places.

It is the opinion of Mr. Cannady that Oklahoma City has been greatly overdone and that it is now suffering a relapse from inflation. Large business blocks have been erected, only to be vacated and, at this time there is but little business activity there. The cause of the depression, is largely due to crop failures and the over estimation of the commercial capacity of the country.

However, in the oil region in and about Tulsa business is good, but in Mr. Cannady's judgment, the resources and natural facilities of the Oklahoma country do not begin to compare with those at home.

In Oklahoma City and Tulsa, Colorado interests are bidding strongly for the Oklahoma people who are dissatisfied with the country and they are getting results, as a great many Oklahomans are moving to the Centennial state. Mr. Cannady is of the opinion that it would be well for the Weber club to send to Oklahoma for literature telling of Utah, and Ogden in particular. Many people from Oklahoma will come west in 1915 and they nearly all can be induced to pass through Ogden. They are a class of people who will be seeking investment, and to see Ogden and vicinity will mean that they will be attracted. He will send literature on the advantages of Ogden to about 50 of his friends. He claims that the Oklahoma people do not know anything about Ogden and that they have an idea that Colorado is the only western state that has a good climate. They do not know that Ogden has one of the finest climates in the world and that the soil is the most productive.

CHICAGO GRAIN
 Chicago, Jan. 22.—Predictions that Argentine shipments would be meagre had a bullish effect today on wheat. The market here, which opened unchanged to 1-8@1-4c higher, scored a moderate advance all around.

Despite seasonable temperatures, the buying of corn was only fair. Quotations started 1-8c off to a like advance and then made a slight gain. Oats showed firmness, largely because of a big reduction in the estimates of the Argentine crop.

First sales of provisions varied from a shade to five cents higher, with a subsequent further rise.

The wheat close was firm, 5-8@3-4 to 3-4@7-8c net higher.

The corn close was firm, 1-2@5-8 to 1c above last night.

RAIN AND SNOW HAS FILLED GUTTERS OF THE CITY
 With the temperature at 38 degrees above zero, a steady rain prevailed in the city the greater portion of last night and the storm went on unabated until 10 o'clock this morning. Immediately prior to which hour the rain turned into sleet and snow. The gutters ran brim full of water. Most of the snow of the past few days was washed away and a sloppy condition followed.

The storm was quite general in the mountain districts. All of Weber county was drenched in rain and wet snow. However, the temperatures in the higher altitudes was low enough to prevent anything like floods and the two big rivers of this section showed no perceptible flood-water this morning, yet the streams
